Recall Envoy To Hungary

Action Result of Dispute Over Status of American Minister

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today that Edward T. Wailes, the American minister to Hungary, is being called home as a result of the dispute with Communist Hungary over his status.

The United States at the same time rejected charges by the Red regime that Wailes' activities "are irreconcilable with international practice."

In an official statement, the State Department said the dispute arose over presentation of Wailes' diplomatic credentials. He arrived in Budapest on Nov. 2 under instructions to present his credentials "promptly" to the Hungarian government then in power.

"It will be recalled that at this time Mr. Imre Nagy was Hungarian prime minister, and Soviet troops for the most part had been withdrawn from Budapest," the State Department said. "Before Mr. Wailes was able to present his credentials, however, the Soviet Union on Nov. 4 intervened in force in Hungary."

The State Department said Wailes acting under instructions from Washington, refrained from presenting his credentials to the Communist government which ousted Nagy.

"There have been no subsequent developments in Hungary warranting the presentation of credentials," the State Department said.

It was noted that the United Nations General Assembly has taken no action to accept the credentials of the Hungarian delegation representing the government of Janos Kadar which took over after the Russian intervention.

The State Department also made public a Hungarian note dated Feb. 22 which pointed out that Wailes had not presented his credentials. The Hungarians said they believed that Wailes "deliberately has been postponing action and had 'not even paid an official visit to the minister of foreign affairs.'"

Hungary complained that Wailes had nevertheless been carrying on official activities.

Eldorado Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Ted Harper, 22, Eldorado, is in the Ferrell hospital today with injuries received during the night when the car he was driving hit a concrete abutment on Route 45 near the Starlite Drive-in theatre between Harrisburg and Eldorado.

The car was wrecked. A brother of Harper said the young man put on his brakes to turn around at the Starlite entrance and that the brakes grabbed, causing the car to hit the abutment. He said his brother was not seriously hurt.

Chas. E. Smith Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Charles Edward Smith who died at his home on Harrisburg RFD 3 yesterday morning, will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church in Harrisburg. Rev. Joe Morman will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Gardens. The body was taken from the Gibbons funeral chapel to the family home to lie in state.

Most Tax Objections Settled, But—Dennis Overrules Objections of Two School District 43 Board Members

They Charged Rate Was Above Legal Limit; Hancock Says Extension Fees Excessive

County Judge Trafton Dennis this morning ruled that a person or persons on a school board who vote for extension of a levy for budget and appropriation resolutions passed by them are estopped from objecting to a tax even though the tax is in excess of the legal rate.

Dennis upheld the contention of State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson, who cited supreme court rulings to back up his argument.

The ruling involved George Barnes and Hudson Mugge, members of the board of education of the Harrisburg Public Schools district, who had objected to the school district's building fund rate as being in excess of the ten-cent maximum rate.

In order to get the money asked for in the appropriation set up by the board, the county had been extending a couple of cents more than the limit.

All other persons who have objected to this building fund rate as being excessive have had their objections sustained.

Judge Dennis yesterday said he would give his opinion this morning after studying thoroughly three supreme court rulings cited.

Judge Dennis made his rulings today after a hearing yesterday morning on the objections of Mr. Barnes and Mr. Mugge to what they termed excessive tax rates for building purposes in School District 43, the Harrisburg Public Schools district.

Air Force Sergeant Delivers Own Baby On Speeding Train

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A 22-year-old U. S. Air Force sergeant was the proud father today of a son he delivered himself on a speeding express train.

Sgt. Felix Johnston, of Ft. Worth, Tex., was aboard the London-Southampton express with his 19-year-old wife, Elmarie, when she was taken ill Tuesday night. He yanked down the shades of their compartment and acted as midwife. Mother and baby were taken to a Southampton Hospital where they were reported doing fine.

'Uncle Joe' Piland, Of Elizabethtown, Dies At Age of 101

"Uncle Joe" Piland, resident of Elizabethtown, died yesterday evening at the age of 101.

The body had been taken to the home of his daughter in Elizabethtown, Mrs. Joey Benton, to lie in state.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Elizabethtown Methodist church and burial will be in the Elizabethtown Odd Fellows cemetery.

Red Cross Fund Drive Meeting Postponed Until Thursday, March 7

The Red Cross fund drive committee meeting which was scheduled for tomorrow night (Thursday), has been postponed one week to Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p. m., at the Junior high school cafeteria.

Atty. Harry L. McCabe, fund drive chairman for the county, announced three more appointments today, with Freeman Pankey named chairman for Carrier Mills township, Ike Williford for Eldorado township, and John Boyett for Galatia.

M McCabe urged all committee members to attend the meeting next Thursday, at which time the campaign will be set up in its entirety.

George Wilkinson Funeral Thursday

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dorrisville Baptist church for George Wilkinson, resident of 1315 Holland street whose death was Tuesday morning. Rev. William Fuson will officiate, assisted by Rev. Otto Williams, and interment will be in Liberty cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Turner funeral chapel.

File Second Slate Of Candidates At Carrier Mills

A second slate of candidates for Carrier Mills village offices has been filed, assuring a contest for all posts to be filled in the spring election.

Candidates filing Monday were Raymond Allen for president of the village board, Harry Farthing for village clerk, Charles VanMeter Jr., Charles W. Wells and Chas. Pyle for trustees on the village board and J. H. Pittman for police magistrate.

Last week a slate of candidates filed: Freeman O'Keefe, incumbent, for president of the village board; Harry Tanner, incumbent, village clerk; Curtis Capel, incumbent and Chester Starkey and Leighman Walker for trustees on the village board and C. H. Austin, incumbent, police magistrate.

Four Killed, Two Missing in Rash of Fires

Damage Estimates Rise Toward $8 Million Mark

By United Press
Damage estimates mounted to ward the $8 million mark today in a rash of industrial and residential fires.

At least four persons were killed and two others were missing in the blazes since Tuesday.

One of the victims was an 18-month-old baby boy who was killed in a Cleveland, Ohio, tenement fire late Tuesday. Fifteen persons fled the flames and three of them were injured when they jumped from windows.

Earlier, three-fourths of Cleveland's fire-fighting force battled a blaze at the Glidden Paint Co. plant. Company officials set damage at $2.5 million.

Another industrial fire destroyed the four-story, two-block long Pequanoc Rubber Co. plant at Butler, N. J. Three firemen were injured, and damage was estimated at more than $3 million.

A blaze Tuesday night in the business district at Parsons, W. Va., destroyed three stores and a house and damaged five other buildings. There were no reports of injuries and no immediate estimate of damages. Firemen said the flames may have been touched off by lightning during a thunderstorm.

Firemen had to dodge whizzing bullets in battling a blaze that destroyed a four-story business and apartment block in the center of Meriden, Conn., Tuesday.

The flames touched off live ammunition in a sporting goods store and bullets flew dangerously close to the fire-fighters. Two persons were missing in the blaze which caused damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

In other fires Tuesday, a 68-year-old woman was killed in a home fire at Milwaukee, Wis., and a man and woman were killed when fire swept a building in Montreal, Canada.

Two buildings in the heart of Mason City, Ill., were destroyed by flames. No damage estimate was immediately available.

The fire department made a run at 7:55 a. m. today to the residence of Bernard Hertlein, 320 West Homer street, where there was slight fire damage to the roof. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

Death Threats Reported Against Star Witness in Senate Teamsters Probe

Resume Pumping Of Water Into City Reservoirs

Pumping of water into the stand-by reservoirs north of town was resumed today after a couple of stops since yesterday morning.

With nearly an inch of rain falling between 7 a. m. Monday and 7 a. m. Tuesday and another .57 inch falling between 7 a. m. yesterday and 7 a. m. today, Middle Fork Creek rose to permit pumping.

All three pumps were started at 11 a. m. Tuesday. The water got bad, however, and pumping was stopped at 8:15 last night. The water cleared up and all pumps were started at 11 o'clock last night and continued until 3:30 a. m. today, when the water again went bad.

Water cleared later and two of the pumps were started at 7:30 a. m.

Held in Death At Metropolis

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) — A Metropolis used car dealer has been charged with murder in the death of a father of three whose auto he had once repossessed.

Lincoln Walbright, 34, was held in Massac County jail today without bond. He was charged with murder in the death of George Davis, 33, a laborer of Metropolis. State's Atty. Louis Horman said the charge was filed by Davis' brother, Marvin.

Officials said the pair had evidently quarreled in Flo's tavern at Metropolis Tuesday night, and stepped outside together.

Horman said a barmaid, Mary Tilstra, saw signs of a scuffle through a window. When patrons got outside, Davis was lying on the sidewalk and Walbright was standing over him, the state's attorney said.

Horman said Davis had an indentation on the left side of his head.

An autopsy report said Davis' death was due to a "brain hemorrhage and spinal fracture."

Walbright was arrested about three hours later at the home of an aunt in Joppa.

Horman said it was not known what the disagreement between the two men was about. He said Walbright told him that Davis had "slipped" but refused to make any other statement.

Moline Mayor Loses Renomination Bid; Area Municipal Primaries

By United Press

Mayor Paul C. Johnson of Moline was ousted but most other incumbents seeking another term won renomination in a second round of Illinois municipal primary elections.

Voters Tuesday nominated municipal candidates for the April general elections in cities and villages throughout the state. An earlier round of municipal primaries was held Feb. 12.

Johnson was defeated in his bid for renomination on the Republican ballot by Moline alderman Reuben M. Peterson by a vote of 2,573 to 1,969. Arnold Smith won the Democratic mayoralty nomination by an 834-750 margin over Leonard Stone.

Smith and Peterson will be opposed in an April 9 general election by James Barry, who filed unopposed as an independent.

At Murphysboro, Mayor Joe Williams won the Democratic nomination for another term. He polled 973 votes to 479 for Ray Chaney and 79 for Louis Russell. James Butcher was nominated over Homer Lichliter, 190-167, in the GOP race.

Virgil T. Bailey and Joseph A. Dull won nomination in Mount Vernon in a non-partisan election to succeed O. L. Buford as mayor.

With almost complete returns, Bailey received 1,401 votes and Dull 1,853.

Mayor Remos C. Miller of Du Quoin was renominated in a non-partisan battle along with Hardy Norris, county relief administrator making his first try for elective office. Only 91 votes separated the top and bottom runners in the five-man mayoralty field.

At Charleston, Joseph C. Snyder and W. G. Tripp won nomination in the mayor's race in a non-partisan contest. The third candidate was T. A. Carnahan.

A record vote of 3,629 turned out at Dixon to approve bond issues amounting to $360,000 for construction of three grade schools and one high school. The issues carried by a 2 to 1 vote.

By contrast, Joliet had the lightest turnout in its recent history to nominate councilmen for the April 16 election. City officials figured the light balloting cost the city $3.85 for each vote cast.

At Calumet City, a housewife charged she was deliberately kept off the ballot as a candidate for mayor on a reform platform.

Mrs. Sarah Mase said she wanted to run for mayor because the incumbent, Stanley E. Beiger, failed to keep his promise to clean up the city's B-girl taverns and strip joints.

Racketeer and Brother Both Are Threatened

Witness Charges Threat Made by Teamsters Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Death threats against a star witness and his brother were reported today at a Senate Rackets Committee investigation of the Teamsters Union.

James B. Elkins, a racketeer who said he had conspired with the Teamsters Union to help gamblers get entrenched in Portland, Ore., told the committee he was personally threatened with death by Frank Brewster, Teamsters vice president and chairman of the union's Western Conference.

And Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said the FBI had disclosed James' older brother Carl, a businessman in Phoenix, Ariz., received a death threat by telephone Tuesday.

The witness himself told the committee, "I know they're going to do something to me." The threat from Brewster, whose headquarters are in Seattle, came some time after September, 1955, the testimony indicated. James Elkins had become "disenchanted" with the situation in Portland.

"My Two Boys"
He told the committee that Brewster got red in the face and said:

"If you embarrass my two boys you'll find yourself wading across Lake Washington (in Seattle) with a pair of concrete boots."

Elkins identified Brewster's "two boys" as William M. Langley, district attorney of Multnomah County in which Portland is situated, and Clyde C. Crosby, international organizer for the Teamsters in Oregon.

Elkins quoted Brewster as saying, "I make mayors and I break mayors. I make chiefs of police and I break chiefs of police. I've been in jail and I've been out... There's nothing that scares me."

Elkins had testified to a teamsters-gamblers-district attorney tie-up in Portland. After telling about the Brewster threat, Elkins said:

"I have a family—I know they're going to do something to me."

The effort to stop Elkins through his brother began about two weeks ago, Carl Elkins said in Phoenix, Tuesday's caller, Carl said, advised him that "Frank and Dave don't want him (James) to talk any more."

Carl said he assumed the reference was to Frank Brewster and to Dave Beck, Teamsters president.

The Phoenix Elkins, a business man and member of a Teamsters local, said he is "100 per cent for my brother if he helps weed out anything rotten."

McClellan said the caller threatened Carl Elkins' life if he testified, or if his brother James continued to testify.

The chairman said the FBI start.

Burglars Enter Stonefort Post Office

The Stonefort post office was broken into Monday night, it was reported yesterday to Sheriff William T. Barrett.

Barrett said entrance was made through a door and that the outer door of the safe was opened but not the inner door. Between two and three dollars in change were taken, he said.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrift" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturiz-ing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Israel Faced Same Threat As South Korea; Her Quick Move
Probably Prevented Long
War; Sherman Adams Drops
Everything For A Ski.

WASHINGTON — On Sept. 16 last year while visiting the Near East, this writer made the following prediction: "An isolated war will break out, with the participation of England and France, but it will not develop into world war."

This prediction required no great reading of the crystal ball. It was easy to see what was coming. U.
S. diplomats could see it just as well as a newspaperman.

Reason they could see it lies at the root of the present trouble between Egypt and Israel, namely almost half a billion dollars' worth of Russian arms stored away in a virtual Russian base in Egypt just across the Israeli border.

The situation was almost the same as that between North Korea and South Korea in 1950. War had to come in Korea. War also had to come between Egypt and Israel—unless the United States or the United Nations had stepped in first. The cause of both was indirect Communist aggression.

Chief difference between Israel and Korea was that in Korea American intelligence was asleep and we let the Russians get the jump on us. In the Near East, Israeli intelligence was not asleep and Israel got the jump on the Russo-Egyptian combine.

Another difference was that Israel cleaned up in four days; the Korean war dragged on for two years. A final difference might have been that a long drawn-out war in the Near East probably would have dragged the United States in. The present proposed Eisenhower Doctrine is aimed at helping nations threatened with Russian aggression, and the Russians arms stored in Egypt were indirect Russian aggression.

But since Israel took the first step and in four days cleaned up what otherwise would have been a long war, the United States now finds itself in the position of being sanctioned about hailing Israel before the bar of the United Nations.

Note — It is only thirty minutes jet fighter time from Egypt to Tel Aviv, chief city of Israel. It could have been bombed to bits by Russia's vast fleet of new MIGs sent to Egypt, before the handful of Israeli fighters could have got off the runways.

SHERMAN ADAMS' REAL LOVE
Assistant President Sherman
Adams is probably the busiest man in Washington, far busier than his boss. But he took time off the other day for a lengthy interview in his office with Miss Mary Lou Prehn, queen of the Washington Ski Club's winter carnival, who has come to invite the former New Hampshire governor to an outing at Davis, West Virginia.

"How long have you been sking?" asked Adams.

"Since I was overseas with the Defense Department," replied Miss Prehn. "The reason I've come, Governor, is to ask you to become an honorary member of our club and to act as honorary chairman of our winter carnival."

"Well, I'd love to come," said Adams. "You mean to tell me that you've got snow down in Davis?"

"Governor," boasted Miss Prehn, "we've got lots of it."

"Well, and how is the new Republican governor of West Virginia, Cecil Underwood, going to feel if a former governor of the great ski state of New Hampshire comes to his ski area?" inquired Adams.

"I think it would be great to have two governors there," parried the diplomatic Miss Prehn.

Adams, who has been portrayed as a cold fish by the press, warms several degrees when the conversation concerns skiing. As a student at Dartmouth college in 1920, he was president of the Outing Club and he's been an enthusiast ever since.

"Are those automatic release binds you have there?" Adams asked the ski queen who was fully attired in skiing regalia.

"Gee, I don't know," answered Miss Prehn, obviously not as expert as the governor. "These skis are rented."

"No," noted Adams. "Those are conventional bindings. Do you like your type of wooden skis?"

"I really don't know the difference."

"Do you know what kind I've got? I have a pair of Head skis.
They're supposed to have 'built-in turns.' And I use Kandahar bindings with a front hitch."

Queen Prehn was obviously beyond her depth at this point.

Note—Besides the governor himself, his wife, Rachel, son, Sam, and three daughters, Marion, Jean, and Sally, all know the difference between a skier's "Abstemm" and a "Geländesprung."
So do the governor's two sons-in-law, Dartmouth graduates Bill Hallager and Bill Freese.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE
Ambassador Charles Bohlen has returned to Washington after four years of brilliant reporting on Soviet Russia, and has asked to be reassigned to another post.
Secretary Dulles, who has never liked Bohlen, has offered him a minor post in Latin America. Being an expert on Slavic languages with no knowledge of Spanish, Bohlen will probably resign.

Civil Defense Administrator Val
Peterson, ex-governor of Nebraska, will resign to go into private business. Without TVA's network of dams, the U. S. Weather Bureau estimates that recent floods in Tennessee would have been the worst in 74 years—22 feet above flood stage, with damage surpassing $50,000,000 in Chattanooga alone. Yet Connecticut, Pennsylvania and California public utilities are still opposing dams unless they have control

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

The mind jumps from subject to subject very rapidly. Thought sequence is amazing. Much of our "idea hopping" develops from the double meanings of words or from a variety of experience associated with certain words.

Invention and ideological progress develop out of the thinking process, but some of our mental processes end up in emotional confusion. Our minds become muddled because we do not dwell on ideas long enough to make them meaningful.

Our religious thinking must not be passed over lightly. We must think about our ideas and our spiritual stimulation until they become associated with daily living. It is all well and good to be sure of our theology and our beliefs about God, but we must remember that "Faith without works is dead."

District Meeting

For Assessors

At SIU March 14

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The Illinois Department of Revenue announced today it will hold five district meetings with local assessing officials. The meetings are scheduled during the week of March 11 through 15 and will begin at 10 a. m.

Sponsored by the department, the meetings offer local assessment officials opportunity to discuss problems affecting the 1957 assessment.

Richard J. Lyons, state director of revenue, said: "We tried to locate these meetings in the several sections of the state to make it as convenient as possible for all officials to attend." The meetings were previously held in Springfield.

Locations and dates of the meetings follow:
March 11, Northern Illinois State

College auditorium, DeKalb.
March 12, High school auditorium, Galesburg.
March 13, County court house, Carlinville.
March 14, Southern Illinois University auditorium, Carbondale.
March 15, Illinois union building,
University of Illinois, Urbana.

WAKE UP RARIN' TO GO

Without Nagging Backache
Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings.
When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

For quick relief get Doan's Pills. They work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedily pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headache, muscular aches and pains, 2. by their soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3. by their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 16 miles of kidney tubes.

Find out how quickly this 3-way medicine goes to work. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have forover 60 years. Ask for new, large size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Pauline Moore Circle Meets With Mrs. Calvin Sutton

The Pauline Moore circle of the First Baptist church met last evening at the lovely newly-decorated home of Mrs. Calvin Sutton.

Following a short business session the program, "Like a Watered Garden," was given in observance of the YWA's fiftieth birthday. Mrs. Grace Hiller, a guest, gave the meditation from Psalm 127:3-4, Psalm 1:1-3; and Jeremiah 17:7-8. She stated that several times in the Old Testament, as well as in the New, life is likened unto a growing plant, a tree, or a garden. The spokesmen of God warned against careless, indifferent planting in dry, barren soil, she said, and asked the members to give serious consideration to their children as "plants grow up."

A playlet on the "Golden Heritage" of YWA was given by Mrs. Hiller, Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Pat Gilley.

The meeting was concluded with prayer after which delicious sandwiches and Cokes were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates and family of Springfield, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wing, and his mother, Mrs. W. R. Gates. Mr. Gates has recently been promoted to correspondent manager of the Springfield area of Hardware Mutual Insurance. Mrs. W. R. Gates has also had as guests her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Dorrough, Griffin, Indiana.

Calendar Of Meetings

Pythian Sisters will meet Thursday at 6 p. m. for potluck at the I. O. O. F. hall on South Main.

The No. 3 adult Sunday school department of the First Baptist church, of which Cecil B. Pulliam is superintendent, will have a potluck dinner Friday, March 1, at 6 p. m. at the educational building. All members and their families in that department are urged to be present.

There will be a stated meeting of Harrisburg Chapter No. 671 Order of Eastern Star Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Irene Shaw, W. M.

The choir of the First Christian church will meet today at 8:30 p. m. for practice.

Midway I. O. O. F. lodge meeting will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. Third degree will be conferred. All Odd Fellows welcome. Vernon Myers, N. G.

Births

To A 2c and Mrs. Harry Eugene Border, a daughter named Deborah Jo, weighing six pounds, 12 1/2 ounces, born Feb. 10. The mother is the former Barbara Dunn. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Border. Airman Border is stationed at Laredo Air Force Base, Laredo, Texas.

Good Neighbor Club Meets With Mrs. Dean Guye

Mrs. Dean Guye of 106 East State street entertained 14 members of the Good Neighbor club and one visitor Wednesday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. John C. Small, president. After group singing prayer was led by Mrs. Mary Riegel and roll call was answered with scripture and a humorous reading by Mrs. Volla Sittig.

The club voted to donate five dollars to the heart fund. It was agreed to have family night on the second Friday night in each month in the lower rooms of Union Chapel Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Valentine gifts were exchanged and contest prizes won by Mrs. Cliff Hafford and Mrs. John C. Small. The door prize was won by Mrs. A. J. Drott.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul R. Drott, served cherry pie and whipped cream topped with a cherry, and drinks to the following: Mrs. Otis Upton, Mrs. W. L. Golliver, Mrs. A. J. Drott, Mrs. Aaron Woodiel, Mrs. Paul R. Drott, Mrs. Otto Henn, Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Mrs. John C. Small, Mrs. George Bond, Mrs. L. L. Riegel, Mrs. Ollie Clayton, Mrs. Cliff Hafford, Mrs. Volla Sittig, Mrs. Cliff Winders, Mrs. Mary Riegel, Miss Mary M. Small, Darlene Guye, Charles A. Drott and Vernon Bond.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. Riegel.

Miss Grace Border has returned to her employment in Lexington, Ky., after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Border. She and Mrs. Border just returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eugene Border and new baby daughter, Deborah Jo, at Laredo, Texas. While in Texas they visited the Alamo and also in Old Mexico. Mrs. Border reports that the trip was lovely, the flowers and trees all being in full bloom.

First Baptist G. A.'s Have Coke Party In Educational Building

The G. A.'s of the First Baptist church held a Coke party Feb. 25 in the educational building at 5 p. m.

The tables were decorated with the G. A. colors of green, gold and white. With the Cokes the refreshment committee served sandwiches and potato chips. The leaders, Mrs. Lee House and Mrs. Paul Baker, served salad and dessert.

Following the meal a business session was conducted by the president, Kay Mitchell.

Games were played at the close of the meeting.

Present at the party were members, Linda Skaggs, Judy Wasson, Kay Mitchell, Carole Trammel, Pat Easley, Sherry Gellosky, Barbara Hatcher, Sandra Kilburn, Pat McSparin, Linda Noonan, Sharon Lindsay, Julie Tallas, Joy Lou Cook, Mary Jo Bynum, Jane Bond, Sharon Evans, Jane Armistead, and the leaders, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. House.

Fidelis Class Meets With Mrs. Brosia Greer

Mrs. Brosia Greer was hostess to the Fidelis class of the Gaskins City Baptist church Tuesday evening.

Fleta Potts gave an inspirational devotion from 1 Tim. 4:12-16, "Let no man despise thy youth." Songs were sung and prayers were led by Mrs. Alice Yates and Mrs. Lizzie Threet.

Class members are inviting everyone to attend the revival and other worship services.

Mrs. Rita Humphrey, recreation chairman, suggested that the class entertain the mothers in honor of Mothers Day and plan for a potluck supper and other entertainment.

Games were played refreshments served to the following: Mrs. Bobby Stanley, Mrs. Leota Tucker, Mrs. Fleta Potts, Mrs. Alice Yates, Mrs. Lizzie Threet, Mrs. Rita Humphrey, Miss Aline Armistead and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Genevieve Grounds.

Mrs. Clarence Threet has returned from Chicago, where she had a very enjoyable visit with her sister, Mrs. Ann Paris, and the latter's husband, Marjorie and Mrs. Augusta Worzh and family.

Raleigh Register

Opal Goodson, Correspondent

Rev. Howard Todd Taylor is attending the World Mission Conference being held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Salem, Ill.

There will be a Hymn-Sing Saturday night at the College Heights Baptist church.

The revival at the Raleigh Baptist Mission closed Wednesday of last week. Several were saved and joined the church. Sunday a bountiful dinner was served in the lower rooms of the Raleigh First Baptist honoring the people of New Haven. In the afternoon a baptismal service was held. There were three baptized from the Raleigh Mission at New Haven.

The Raleigh Baptist church has purchased a beautiful new piano from the Craggs-DeVilz furniture store at Eldorado.

The Baptist church at Wesson and their pastor came to Raleigh Sunday afternoon for a baptismal service in the church baptistry.

Feb. 12 was the birthday of Aunt Winnie Newcom who was 80 years young on that day. A few friends gathered at her home for a potluck dinner and to wish her many more happy birthdays. Those attending were Mrs. Grace Oglesby, Mrs. Rhoda Yates, Mrs. Lena Whitlock and Organ James.

A Valentine party was enjoyed by the pupils of the Raleigh grade school. Room mothers were in charge. Refreshments in keeping with Valentine day were served. After the party each room assembled in the gym to see the movie, "Romeo and Juliet."

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Yates visited Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wiedemann of near Equality. While in that vicinity they also called at the home of Mrs. Eva Yates who is an aunt of Mr. Yates. Mrs. Yates is 88 years young.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Wiley of Harrisburg were Saturday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones.

Forrest Johnson of St. Louis was a Monday guest of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Todd Taylor and children, Stephen and Nancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones and sons, Paul and Larry, of Harrisburg were Sunday guests of Mr. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones.

On Feb. 21 Raleigh grade school held its annual homecoming in which they played host to Elizabethtown grade school. First was a girls' basketball game followed by a second team game. At half time of the first team game Raleigh held a coronation ceremony in which Janet Kay Gholson was crowned basketball queen and Charles Miller was crowned basketball king. Attendants were Faye Tison and Jerry Wesley. Little Miss Donna Kay McVay and Tommy Via were the crown bearers. All who took part in the basketball season of 1956-57 participated in this lovely event. All games played that night were won by Raleigh.

Nancy Jean Taylor, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Todd Taylor celebrated her ninth birthday Friday, Feb. 22, with a birthday party in the lower rooms of the First Baptist church. Games were played and prizes given to Linda Taylor, Carol Gibbs, Gwen Tate, Nancy Marie Taylor, Phyllis Tate, Margaret Tate and Mary Keating. Mrs. Mavis Taylor, mother of Nancy Jean, assisted by Mrs. Marie Taylor of Benton served delicious refreshments to Darlene Goodson, Mary Beth Quick, Mary Jane Keating, Regenia Keating, Margaret Tate, Gwen Tate, Phyllis Tate, Carol Gibbs, Linda Adams, Virginia Lemons, Linda Kay Taylor, Nancy Marie Taylor, and Nancy Jean.

Recent callers at the home of Opal and Darlene Goodson were Mr. and Mrs. Waive Randolph and children, Sarah Lou, Janice Lee and Jimmy of Evansville, Mrs. Betty Reynolds of Harrisburg and Mrs. Chloe Tyree of Eldorado.

Darlene Goodson received word Monday that her uncle, Osman Goodson of Moline, is seriously ill at his home there.

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1956 by Frank Gruber Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: With stolen gold, Chad Morgan and Joe Jagger build a town at a railroad on the Kansas prairie. Chad goes south into Texas to tell cattlemen to drive their herds to the town Pawnee City for shipment to market. On the trip he meets a girl, Cass Simcoe.

IV

A man came out of the house, a tall, heavy-set man in his early 40's. He had a short spade beard and still wore gray woolen trousers. The stripes had been removed from the sides, but the marks of them still showed. He wore a gray woolen shirt, with a black string tie about the throat. A slouch hat was on his head.

"Here he comes," said Cass Simcoe. "Dad, this is Mr. Morgan. He wants to talk to you, although he wouldn't say why, but I got to warn you right away. He's a Yankee."

"Cassie!" remonstrated General Simcoe. He turned to Morgan, bowed stiffly, but did not offer to shake hands. "How do you do, sir?" Morgan nodded. "How are you, General? I'll get right to the point. I understand you graze quite a few head of cattle."

A cloud seemed to pass over the general's features. "That's about all I have these days, cattle." "We're poor," interrupted Cass Simcoe. "You Yankees took away everything we had and the general isn't even allowed to vote."

"Please, Cass," said the general. "Mr. Morgan isn't interested in our problems."

"Perhaps I am, sir," said Morgan. He took a folded bill from his pocket and opening it, extended it to General Simcoe. The latter hesitated, then began reading the bill. He shook his head.

"Is this why you've called, Mr. Morgan?" he asked. "Because if it is, I'm not interested. I tried to drive a small herd north last year and some of your—ah—some ruffians—"

"Jayhawkers."

"Cutthroats," suddenly snapped the general. "Riffraff! They weren't satisfied with cutting the herd 25 per cent, they stampeded the balance. We never got to Joplin and I was out the expenses of the drive."

"You wouldn't be going anywhere near Missouri," said Morgan. "Pawnee City is a considerable distance west of the territory in which the Jayhawkers are operating. The drive would be quite safe—and ready money would be waiting for you."

"Money!" cried Cass. "That's one thing we haven't got any of. Golly, how I'd like to have some money. Even Yankee money."

Morgan reached into his pocket and took out a silver dollar. He extended it to her. She started to reach for it, shot a quick look at her father's frowning face, then shook her head. "I'm too old to take money from men."

"Mr. Morgan," said the general. "I presume this is your name on this bill."

"It is, sir. My partner, Mr. Jagger, and I are building this town on the new Kansas & Colorado Railroad. It's approximately 100 miles west of Kansas City. The railroad has guaranteed us a siding, ample shipping facilities."

"You own a whole town, Mister?" exclaimed Cass. "You must be filthy rich!"

Morgan sent a look toward the three men by the corral. The general interpreted the look. "This is their home. I could not turn them out."

The trail was a year and a half old. Many rains, snow and sleet had come and gone. Yet there were traces of the rear-guard skirmish and Tom Alder had the time to study them.

There had been casualties on both sides and he found the burial mounds, a long low mound and a shallow grave below, in which were buried the remains of 11 former Confederates and a more deeply dug, smaller grave in which five Union soldiers had been interred.

Alder widened the scope of his search and it was thus that he came upon the overturned ambulance at the edge of the canebrake.

He buried the bones, but not before he studied them carefully and found the chunk of lead in the skull that it had been driven into the head while his brother, Jim Alder, had been lying on the ground.

Alder gave his attention then to the ambulance. He found the iron-strapped wooden chest still in an excellent state of preservation. He scraped the inside with the sharp point of a knife found enough bits of gold to know that the chest had once been loosely packed with gold. He even found a $10 gold piece on the ground nearby, where it had been spilled in the hasty transfer of the currency to another receptacle.

The rails of the Kansas & Colorado Railroad had reached Pawnee City in early March. The framework of a depot was already up and part of it had even been boarded over, but there was no sign on it to identify Pawnee City. It wasn't necessary, of course. The almost completed stockyards and loading pens, the siding, were identification enough. And if that were not enough there was the gigantic structure on the south side of the tracks, that would be the biggest hotel west of Kansas City.

Chad Morgan was a passenger on the first train that went all the way into Pawnee City. It was actually a work train, consisting of a dozen cars carrying railroad ties, one freight car with supplies for the firm of Jagger & Morgan and a caboose at the end of it, in which Morgan traveled.

Permit Sale Of Hodge Hotel

SPRINGFIELD — Circuit Judge De Witt S. Crow has granted the state permission to sell Orville E. Hodge's lavish apartment hotel at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to a Detroit firm for $522,500.

Crow issued a decree Tuesday giving former State Auditor Lloyd Morey, as trustee, authority to sell the hotel, including $27,000 worth of furnishings, to the Michigan Typewriting Co.

The money obtained for the hotel will be applied as restitution for Hodge's million-dollar-plus raid on the state treasury.

Crow said he has been advised that Hodge's wife, Margaret, will sign quit claim deeds to permit completion of the sale. Mrs. Hodge has pending a suit seeking to recover money and assets turned over by Hodge and herself as restitution to the state.

The hotel is mortgaged for about $193,000.

Crow also gave Morey authority to dispose of 160 shares of stock in the Paramount Fire Insurance Co., which were turned over by Hodge as restitution.

Southern Division Of IEA to Elect Officers on March 4

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Five new officers and a finance committee chairman will be elected for the Southern Division, Illinois Education Association at a representative assembly at 7 p. m. Monday, March 4, in University School Auditorium at Southern Illinois University.

More than 100 delegates from the division's 14 southernmost Illinois counties are expected to attend the meeting, which will include reports from legislative, finance, and public relations committees. Presiding will be the retiring president, Raymond L. Foster, SIU lecturer in chemistry. Officers to be filled are president, two vice-presidents, secretary, and treasurer.

Peoria TV Station To Appeal Shift In VHF Channel

PEORIA, Ill. — WIRL-TV has announced it will appeal a decision by the Federal Communications Commission to withdraw very high frequency Channel 8 from Peoria and shift it to the Davenport-Rock Island-Moline area.

The FCC decision Tuesday leaves Peoria without a VHF channel. The commission said it would make an ultra high frequency channel available to WIRL-TV in place of its conditional grant of VHF Channel 8.

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels were responsible for 53 per cent of all deaths in the United States in 1955.

At least 10,000,000 persons in the United States, or one of every 16, suffers from some form of cardiovascular disease.

$238 Million Stratton Bill for Improvements At State Institutions Introduced

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Gov. William G. Stratton's bill for a 238-million dollar bond issue for construction and improvements at state welfare and higher education institutions was introduced today in the Senate.

The bill would provide 81 million dollars for welfare institutions, 86 million dollars for the University of Illinois, 41 million for Southern Illinois University and 30 million for the state teachers colleges.

The bill would set up a state building board of the governor, attorney general and state treasurer which would be empowered to issue 238 million dollars in bonds. The bond issue proposal would have to be approved at a referendum in 1958.

The bonds would be paid off over a 25 year period from general revenue funds.

The bond issue proposal has been urged by Stratton as one means of providing needed new quarters and improvements without raising the sales tax.

The Senate, meanwhile, set a hearing on a 1½-million-dollar appropriation for Salk polio vaccine and Stratton's judicial reform program was introduced in the House.

Third Attempt
The judicial reform program was the third effort to be made at overhauling the state's court system, previous attempts being defeated in the 1933 and 1955 legislative sessions.

The judicial reform program will require a constitutional amendment and must roll up a two-thirds vote in both houses before it can be presented to the voters in 1958. Methods of nominating judges has blocked judicial reform in the past. The proposed reform would

Override Tax Objections Of Two On School Board

there was any illegality on the part of the school board."

Says Discriminatory
Evidence then indicated that although the school rate was set at ten cents—the limit—the clerk was being told how much money was needed for operations and that to get this amount, the rate was going over ten cents.

Mr. Barnes stated that the large corporations have been objecting to these excessive rates and are having their objections sustained, that the little taxpayer will not object because of the cost involved.

"We're bringing it out in the open that it's discriminatory against the little taxpayer," he said. "If we're wrong in objecting to this excessive rate because we're members of the school board, it means the board has the authority to cause an illegal extension to be made. We want the money needed to operate but we want to get it by referendum or some other legal way."

Clerk Told To Raise Money
Judge Dennis asked: "You board members vote for an appropriation upon which taxes are to be levied, and to raise the amount of money required, it takes an illegal levy?"

Barnes replied that the clerk is told to raise the amount of money desired but they don't tell him to raise the rate.

"You are asking the clerk to raise a certain amount of money and it takes an illegal rate to do it, so you are a part of the action?" Judge Dennis asked Mr. Barnes.

"We just tell him what we need; the rate isn't mentioned," Mr. Barnes replied.

Judge Dennis said the making of the appropriation should not be a question of what could be obtained but that consideration should be on what's the least the taxing body could get by with and levy accordingly.

It was conceded that the school rate in the objection has exceeded the statutory limit for several years.

County Collects Extension Fees
Before getting down specifically to the point of whether or not the two school board members should have their objections sustained, Judge Hancock stated he believed the county is getting more from its extension of taxes than it is legally entitled to extend and when it settles with the schools, they are not getting enough taxes to meet their obligations.

He said the county is taking an extension fee on every single item extended.

"I don't think this is legal but it is being done," he stated.

"The county is getting more from the extension fees than it is entitled to, the schools are not getting what they should and the taxpayers are paying more than they should."

He said the county has been collecting three separate fees for extending the taxes.

Hancock also brought out that on Jan. 8, 1957, after objections had been filed against the school rate for building purposes on grounds that it was excessive, the school board unanimously passed a resolution stating that the clerk should not extend the rate for District 43 over the legal limits.

Judge Dennis also yesterday overruled objections to the county bridge tax and the federal aid secondary road tax made by the group represented by Atty. Hancock.

The Senate took up its own polio vaccine appropriation bill after the House Appropriations Committee Tuesday delayed a vote on a similar measure because of lack of time.

Rep. Esther Saperstein (D-Chicago) told the appropriations committee 10 counties in Illinois have already used up their vaccine allotments and that Illinois is not eligible for any more free vaccine from the federal government.

Polio Season Near
Her bill would appropriate the money to the State Health Department to buy vaccine and distribute it free.

Mrs. Saperstein said the summer polio season is approaching and fewer than 500,000 Illinois residents have had the full series of polio inoculations.

Dr. Ruth Church of the State Health Department said ample supplies of the vaccine are available on the market but Illinois does not have any money to buy it.

The department has spent one million dollars appropriated for the vaccine at the last session.

Gov. Stratton has said he will not oppose the vaccine appropriations as long as the amount is not over 1½ million dollars.

Ten civic, farm and business groups, meanwhile, declared their opposition to a bill to require registration of lobbyists.

Ask Senate Hearing
The 10 groups, all of which lobby in the legislature, were the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, the Civic Federation of Chicago, the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois, the Illinois Insurance Federation, the Illinois Manufacturers Assn., the Illinois Agricultural Assn., the Illinois Bankers Assn., the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Associated Employers of Illinois and the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

The raid was made under the direction of city police, who confiscated the liquor, the bar and other equipment.

If a man could lift 500 pounds on the earth, he would be able to lift 3,000 pounds on the moon.

Auxiliary State Police Proposed

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Major bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday would:

Provide for hiring 600 auxiliary state police for use in emergencies and on holiday traffic patrols. The Democratic sponsored bill provided for hiring the auxiliary police from the ranks of civil defense workers at the rate of $1.25 an hour. Gov. William G. Stratton would raise the size of the regular state police force increased by 600 men.

Prohibit racial discrimination on public golf courses and driving ranges.

Raise from $40 a month to $60 a county's share of maintaining a boy or girl at the state training schools.

Prohibit straight ticket voting by removing from the ballot the party circle at the top of the ballot. This would require voting for each candidate individually.

Another proposed election law change would provide for combined party ballots at a primary election at the option of the voter. By putting the candidates of both parties on one ballot, a voter would not be required to declare his party affiliation at a primary.

Increase from 2½ to 3¼ per cent on $100 assessed value the maximum tax rate in school districts furnishing free textbooks.

Raise the salary of the State Athletic Commission secretary from $7,500 to $10,000 a year.

Prohibit by statute the solicitation of law business.

The Dow Jones averages at noon showed industrials off 1.46 at 466.26; rails off 0.27 at 140.66; utilities off 0.13 at 70.35, and 65 stocks off 0.42 at 164.85.

Pioneer Movie Producer Dies
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Movieland today mourned the death of B. P. Schulberg, the producer who discovered Shirley Temple and who was once the mightiest movie mogul of them all.

Schulberg, father of the author Budd Schulberg, died of a stroke Tuesday in Miami, Fla. He was 65.

A colorful man, who once earned $9,500 weekly as chief of production at Paramount Studios, Schulberg's later years were marked by disappointment and failure in the movie industry he helped build.

In October, 1949, he ran an ad in the motion picture trade papers asking for work.

The ad was addressed to the Warner Brothers, Darryl Zanuck and other film bigwigs. At the time, he said, "I don't mind crawling on my knees to people who used to be my assistants. I'll take any kind of job."

Discoverer of such stars as Sylvia Sydney, Gary Cooper, Claudette Colbert and Fredric March, Schulberg once hired Producer David O. Selznick as an assistant. He personally produced "Wings," "The Way of All Flesh" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

After his son, Budd, published the novel "What Makes Sammy Run"—a satire on Hollywood's big ed an immediate investigation. He said "this is not the first" such call to Carl Elkins.

Despite the threat, James Elkins resumed his testimony today with this remark about his brother Carl: "He's not in the racks. He's honest. We call him a square."

James Elkins has another brother, Fred, who is his occasional partner in Portland gambling and pinball enterprises.

Challenge Committee's work
McClellan said as the committee began its second day of hearings, "It is developing apparently that the hoodlum and gangster elements that have infiltrated labor-manager relations possibly intend to challenge the work of this committee with every obstruction including violence, threats of violence and all forms of intimidation and corruption."

"If the situation develops as it now appears in the process of doing," McClellan said, "it will be a challenge to law and order and the power of the government of the United States."

James Elkins, a "disenchanted" Portland racketeer, had been called by Senate investigators today to tell how the Teamsters Union helped two Seattle gamblers move into his territory.

Three Main Reasons
A typical case was the daughter of a high government official of the New Deal era. Her famous parents were horrified when her first grade teacher pronounced the verdict that "this child will never learn to read." By the end of one year at Georgetown, the little girl was reading fifth grade books. Last year, she got her M. A. degree from the University of Chicago, at the age of 17.

Mrs. O'Neil said there are three main reasons why a brilliant child is apt to have a lot of trouble in the ordinary school:

1. "He's bored. The challenge is so inadequate to his real ability that he won't even do the 'easy' work he is given."

2. Frustration of his "instinctive need to grow" makes him tense and nervous. Unable to release his pent-up steam in intellectual channels, he takes it out in classroom misconduct. His reputation as a "bad" child is often heightened by the fact that "he is scornful of the teacher, and she knows it."

3. The brilliant child is usually "rejected" by fellow students who sense that he is "different." Some times he is also rejected by teachers and parents who unconsciously are "jealous" of him. This hostile atmosphere puts the child on the defensive, makes it difficult for him to adjust to school discipline or to display his knowledge in the classroom.

Have Child Tested
How can parents detect exceptional intelligence in a child, and protect him from unfortunate consequences?

"Most experts say that gifted children walk early and talk early, but this is not an altogether reliable sign," said Mrs. O'Neil.

"Some of the most brilliant children I've known didn't say a word until they were 2 years old. Then they began talking in sentences."

House Group Approves Civil Rights Program
WASHINGTON (UP) — A House judiciary subcommittee today approved the Eisenhower administration's four-point civil rights program after adding four amendments designed to make it "less unpalatable to the South."

The bill will be sent to the full Judiciary Committee for action next Tuesday. Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (NY), ranking Republican, both predicted the full committee will approve it.

Celler told newsmen "the amendments will make it less unpalatable to the South."

Key features of the bill, and the amendments, would:

1. Set up a six-member bipartisan commission to investigate allegations that citizens are being deprived of the right to vote or are being subjected to "unwarranted economic pressures" because of color, race or national origin.

The subcommittee deleted a provision which also would have permitted the commission to investigate "economic pressures" because of religion.

Other amendments would require the commission to follow House rules for committee investigations, allow only sworn complaints to be considered and prevent the commission from subpoenaing witnesses to attend hearing outside their judicial district.

2. Create a civil rights division, headed by an assistant attorney general, in the Justice Department.

3. Strengthen laws protecting the right to vote by prohibiting individuals, as well as officials, from interfering with this right.

4. Authorize the government to bring civil court suits for injunctions or other relief to prevent civil suits for damages without the written consent of the person allegedly aggrieved.

High I. Q. Can Handicap Lessons Aimed at Average Children, Brilliant Child Often Makes Poor Grades

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — A brilliant child often makes lower grades in school than one of average intelligence, an educator said today.

Mrs. Agnes Inglis O'Neil, a nationally known authority on the education of gifted children, said an I. Q. of 130 can be a "serious handicap" in a classroom where a busy teacher is aiming lessons at the great majority of students with I. Q.s ranging from 100 to 110.

If one of the rare prodigies with an I. Q. close to 150 lands in such a classroom, she said in an interview, "he is likely to be branded a disciplinary problem and a slow learner."

Mrs. O'Neil is director of Georgetown Day School, a private institution here that offers special training for unusually bright students. Her files are packed with case histories of children who once were regarded as lazy or backward, but who turned out to be far above average in ability.

Death Cancels 75th Wedding Anniversary Plans for Couple PONTIAC, Mich. (UP) — Death has cancelled the 75th wedding anniversary celebration planned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Church to which President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Church were married at Bad Axe Mich., in 1882 and were to have celebrated 75 years of married life March 9.

But Mrs. Church, 92, died Tuesday, whereupon the reception planned by the mayor of Bad Axe and the Church's three sons, daughter, 11 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren was cancelled.

The 96-year-old Church said his wife was wearing her third wedding ring when she died. She had worn out two others.

Labor Officials To Address Forum At SIU Thursday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A vice president of the Textile Workers Union of America and four Southern Illinois labor officials will discuss "Grievance Procedure" in the second of a series of Labor Forum meetings on the Southern Illinois University campus Thursday.

Sponsored by the Southern Illinois Labor Relations Council, the meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the University School Little Theater. Open discussion will follow the panel event.

Serving on the panel will be William J. Tullar, Chicago, Midwest director and vice president of the Textile Workers; Ralph Cooksey, Johnston City, secretary of the Southern District Council, Hodcarriers; Earl Hood, Murphysboro, business representative of local 160, Plumbers and Pipefitters; J. O. Jones, West Frankfort, business manager, local 702, Electrical Workers, and John Margando, Herrin, international business representative of the International Association of Machinists.

The monthly meetings, started in January, are open to all labor union members. At the end of the series in April, participants who have registered and attended at least three meetings will receive certificates.

Turncoat Quits China; Hits Red Acts in Hungary

HONG KONG (UP) — American turncoat Samuel D. Hawkins returned to the free world from Red China today, saying Russia's crushing of Hungary soured him on living in a Communist country.

The 24-year-old ex-soldier from Oklahoma City, Okla., who defected to Communist China after his capture during the Korean War, crossed the border into this British colony Tuesday night.

He was sober-faced when met by British, U. S. and Red Cross officials, but smiled broadly when he received newsmen at the Princes Hotel an hour later.

He frankly admitted he was a "turncoat."

Asked why he had left Communist China after three years, Hawkins said:

"Mostly because of the Hungarian situation," he said. "I did not like the way it came about. To me it seemed to be wanton killing by Soviet soldiers."

The 6-foot infantryman, well dressed in a blue suit which looked new, carried his overcoat and a blue scarf as he crossed the border.

Hawkins' wife, Tanya, a Russian whom he married in June, 1956, did not come with him because the United States would not guarantee her an entry permit until proper application is made. Unless Hawkins can get her an entry permit to the United States, British authorities will refuse to let her into Hong Kong.

Marty Marion Offers $150,000 for Lakers

NEW YORK — Unless a Minneapolis civic group can match his $150,000 offer by March 13, former big league manager Marty Marion will become owner of the Minneapolis Lakers pro basketball team and move it elsewhere.

Marion and his associate, Milton Fischmann, agreed with Lakers' owner Ben Berger Tuesday on a "provisional" sale of the National Basketball Association club.

The provision is that the Minneapolis group gets until March 13 for its effort to keep the team in that city. If the civic group fails, then Marion and Fischmann say they will move the team "to Kansas City or possibly some other city."

DeMarco Rated Welterweight Top Contender

NEW YORK — Former welterweight champion Tony DeMarco moved in as the division's No. 1 contender today, replacing Johnny Saxton, another ex-champion, who was dropped to third following his early kayo by champion Carmen Basilio last week.

DeMarco, who lost the welter crown to Basilio in 1955 and then failed to regain it in another match that year, has been established as the leading contender in Ring Magazine's monthly ratings because of his recent win over Gaspar Ortega of Mexico.

Nino Valdes, who cleaned up the best English heavyweights in his recent tour of the British Isles, earned the No. 10 spot in the heavyweight division, while Wayne Bethea was dropped because of inactivity.

The middleweight division saw several significant changes. Ellsworth (Spider) Webb was moved up from fourth to third behind Charley Humez of France and former champion Ray Robinson. In other changes in this division, Neale Rivers was dropped from eighth to 10th following a loss to Webb, Charley Joseph of New Orleans took over Rivers' eighth spot and Tiger Jones dropped from third to fourth.

Former lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, who was kayoed recently by champion Joe Brown, was dropped from fifth to seventh, while Orlando Zulueta moved up from sixth to fifth. British Empire champion Willie Towel advanced from ninth to sixth. Gil Cadilli of San Francisco advanced from seventh to fifth among the featherweights, Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., slipped from fifth to sixth, and Jean Sneyers of Belgium advanced from fifth to fourth.

Chipley Fired as W&L Grid Coach

LEXINGTON, Va. — Bill Chipley, who was fired as head football coach of the "de-emphasized" Washington and Lee Generals Tuesday after losing 14 of his past 15 games, blamed part of his troubles today on an interfraternity touch football league.

The football players were more interested in playing for the fraternities than for Washington and Lee, he told the United Press.

Chipley, 35, an All-Southern Conference end at W&L in 1946, took over as head of the university's de-emphasized and non-subsidized team in 1954 after the university had gone one season without a team.

Although it played only small-time opponents—teams W&L could have licked without pushing before de-emphasis—Chipley's 1954 edition lost all seven games, scoring only four touchdowns. In 1955, the Generals beat only little Seawane in an eight-game schedule and pushed their two-year record to 1-15.

McKinley Sixth, Bayliss, Horace Mann Fifth Win Tourney Tilts

Three games were played in the Harrisburg Grade School basketball tournament Tuesday afternoon and two more games were being played this afternoon at the Harrisburg Junior high school gymnasium.

In sixth grade play yesterday McKinley beat Horace Mann 41-32. Two fifth grade games were played, Bayliss winning from McKinley 18-17 and Horace Mann defeating Dorrisville 26-2.

Today's opening game had Dorris Heights playing Bayliss in a fifth grade game and Dorrisville vs. Logan in sixth grade competition.

Two games are scheduled for Thursday evening and championship games will be played Monday, starting at 6 p. m.

Missouri Valley Conference Referee Suspended in Gambling Connection Rumor

ST. LOUIS — Missouri Valley Conference officials turned up no leads today to a rumored gambling connection by a suspended referee.

The league president, the Rev. Charles L. Sanderson of St. Louis University, refused to name the referee. He said, "The conference decided not to reveal the name of the official and we will continue that policy."

Commissioner Artie Eilers, in Chicago to run down accusers of the referee, found no evidence to support the rumors.

The referee was suspended after the president of Wichita University reported rumors that Wichita, moving up toward the valley basketball championship until a few days ago, was slated to lose its next three games.

The referee, assigned to work all three games, was to use a "biased" whistle to control the point spread issued by basketball handicappers operating out of Minneapolis, according to rumors. The official worked the first game, but was withdrawn from the next two, although he received his usual fee.

Coaches in the game gave him a high rating, the referee said. He added that he did not know how the rumors started and he was willing to appear before any investigative body to clarify the situation.

Eilers said the referee had a reputation for independence and ability, and may be the victim of a "whispering campaign."

Lockman Returns To Giants; Cards Get Hoyt Wilhelm

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Whitey Lockman will have to fight it out with two other candidates before regaining his old first baseman's post with the New York Giants, Manager Bill Rigney indicated today.

Lockman, traded to the St. Louis Cardinals last season in a seven-player deal, returned to the Giants Tuesday in a no-cash trade that sent veteran relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm to St. Louis.

Rigney explained that Lockman wouldn't be assigned his old spot at first base without first earning it.

"Gail Harris still is our No. 1 first base candidate," he added. "And the fact that we have Lockman back does not change my plans to give third baseman Foster Castelman a crack at first base and left field."

The straight player trade also should help the Cardinals, who needed a veteran like Wilhelm to bolster their bullpen staff. The 33-year-old right-hander enjoyed his greatest season with the Giants in 1952, when he led the National League with an earned-run average of 2.43 while winning 15 games and losing three. He had a 4-9 record last year.
